

Occitane
rganic
nea utter, $50.

BEAUTY MOMENT AU NATUREL

Provence Santé
olive leaf soap,
$17, from Saison.

Antipodes
certified-
organic Hallelujah
Lime &
Patchouli
Cleanser,
$59.

Ecoya Money Love
soy travel candle in French Pear, $13.

ECOYA

La Bioesthetique
Huile
Nourissante
hair and scalp
oil, $63.

MV Organic
Skincare
Rose
Hydrating
Mist, $27.

Ère Pèrè
Natural
Chamomile Eye Colour In Without Clothes, $28

Grown Camellia and Geranium
Blossom
Facial Moisturiser, $48.

Pureology Essential
Repair Split End Correcting
Treatment, $54.

Kiehl's Aloe Vera
Biodegradable
Liquid Body
Cleanser, $38.

Sodashi
Everybody Organic
Greek Tea
Salt Therapy
Exfoliant, $54.

Aveda Rosemary
Mint Bath Bar, $20.

Sodashi Lifestyle
Organic Reviva
Tea, $43

Terre & Mer by Thalgo Vital Fluid with organic olive leaf, $63.

Suvana Bio Gloss in Walnut, $24.

e've come
a long way
from lather-
less olive-
oil soaps
and crystal

deodorant. Thanks to potent botanicals and results-driven formulae, the natural-beauty market is growing at a rapid rate, in line with the greater global seismic lifestyle shift towards organics and eco-mindedness. Holistic facialist Sharon McGlinchey, who formulated the popular MV

Organic Skincare line (Maggie Gyllenhaal and Emma Watson are fans), says that when looking for a range it's important to shop around. "There are many levels of organic, from basic to luxury, and price is often – but not always – indicative of quality," she says. "Choose something with a high concentration of organic ingredients with little or no pesticide/chemical residue and try as many samples as you can until you find something that feels good and smells good."

Eminence Organic
Skin Care Mimosa
Champagne
Tonique, $61

Natio Spa with Organics Coconut
and Shea Body
Butter, $18.

